

The Cyber Mission Field: Hard Questions

“Always be prepared to give an answer to everyone who asks you to give the reason for the hope that you have. But do this with gentleness and respect, keeping a clear conscience, so that those who speak maliciously against your good behavior in Christ may be ashamed of their slander.”

—1 Peter 3:15-16, NIV

How would you respond to these honest issues raised by unbelievers about what you believe and why?

Topic: How can you prove it?

Author: SonofSkeptic

Is anybody else upset over having to say “under God” in the pledge of allegiance? Aside from the “freedom of religion” issue, it seems that it weakens our nation if it is “under” something whose existence can’t even be proven. It’s like saying “one nation, under the tooth fairy.” No wonder the whole country is messed up!

Topic: Visiting Faith

Author: SonofSkeptic

In an effort to take a vacation from my unbelief, I was wondering if I could visit the faith of some of you believers out there. Trouble is, I just don’t think the existence of God can really be proved or disproved. Anyone want to explain what is it that makes you believe?

For one idea on how to answer these questions, check out “BELIEVEINWHAT.COM” on p. 40 of the Spring 2004 issue of Go! magazine. And next time you hit the web, don’t forget to drop by go.studentz.com to find lots of great ideas for reaching your friends, family and nation with the Good News about Jesus.